

STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF BEXAR
CITY OF SAN ANTONIO

A REGULAR MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN ANTONIO WAS HELD IN THE COUNCIL CHAMBERS, MUNICIPAL PLAZA BUILDING, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 4, 2008 AND THURSDAY, JUNE 5, 2008.

The San Antonio City Council attended the 2008 Energy Summit hosted by CPS Energy on Wednesday, June 4, 2008, at 11:30 am at Pearl Stables. City Clerk Leticia M. Vacek noted a quorum of the Council with the following present: Cisneros, McNeil, Ramos, Cortez, Galvan, Herrera, Rodriguez, Cibrian, Rowe, Clamp, and Mayor Hardberger.

The City Council heard presentations on the following topics:

- Energy Overview: A New Energy Agenda for the 21st Century
- Energy Efficiency: Funding and True Costs
- Advanced Metering
- Utility Partnerships with Local Governments
- Low-Income Energy Programs
- National Trends in Energy Efficiency

Mr. Steve Bartley, Deputy General Manager of CPS Energy, stated that the following issues would be addressed: 1) Efficiency, 2) Conservation, 3) Climate Change, and 4) Clean Energy.

CPS Board Chair Aurora Geis provided a history of CPS Energy and highlighted its successes. She spoke of the customer base and noted that the City was experiencing significant growth on the South Side. She stated that the long investment cycle for the electric industry meant that it would be ten years before a project decision was implemented and more than twenty years before economic benefits were realized. Additional complexities include future energy sources, new technology available, and possible regulations. Ms. Geis explained the "No Silver Bullet Approach" and stated that for the current year, CPS Energy would take a closer look at energy efficiency. Lastly, Ms. Geis recognized Mr. Milton Lee, CEO and General Manager of CPS Energy, and the members of the CPS Board and Citizen Advisory Committee who were in attendance.

Mayor Hardberger stated that the Energy Summit was an opportunity for City Officials, Staff, CPS Energy, and citizens to gather to assess energy issues facing the City. He complimented CPS Energy on their ability to maintain low rates for customers. He noted that the following principles could be agreed upon by all:

- 1) The City will need more energy in the future and that need can be modified by proper conservation methods.
- 2) Everything possible should be done to develop sustainable sources of energy such as wind and solar power.
- 3) Energy needs should be diminished as much as possible.
- 4) There should be minimal damage to the environment.

Mr. Milton Lee stated that CPS was continuously looking toward the future. He noted that in 2003, formal approval had been issued by the Board for the CPS Strategic Energy Plan. The four elements of the plan included: 1) Generating affordable electricity through fuel diversification, 2) Increasing renewable energy capacity, 3) Living up to environmental commitments, and 4) Strengthening Energy Efficiency Programs.

Mr. Jeremy Rifkin presented "Leading the Way to the Third Industrial Revolution: A New Agenda for the US in the 21st Century." Mr. Rifkin stated that we were in the last stages of the Great Energy Era. He noted that we would be using oil, coal, and uranium in the near and distant future, but the problems pertaining to those energies were already beginning to overwhelm the benefits. He stated that there were four embedded problems in the twilight of the era: 1) Climate Change, 2) Increasing Inflation, Debt, and Marginalization of Wealth, 3) Political Stability in the Persian Gulf, and 4) Peak Oil on the Horizon. Mr. Rifkin added that experts had continually underestimated the rate of change because of feedback loops which were not yet understood.

Mr. Rifkin spoke about the Hubert Bell Curve which predicted that peak oil would occur in 2035, but re-evaluations have predicted the peak in 2020 with a supply crunch in 2014. He stated that adversity created opportunity and great economic revolutions occurred when people changed the organization of energy and communication. He noted that the communication revolution currently taking place included cell phones, satellites, and Wi-Fi.

Mr. Rifkin stated that the European Union, twenty-three states and various cities were making the shift to renewable energy. He noted that centralized plants would not be able to sustain the entire nation so individual buildings would serve as their own power plants. Mr. Rifkin explained that because the wind was not always blowing and the sun was not always shining, it would be necessary to store energy in hydrogen.

Mr. Ted Schultz presented "Funding and True Costs of Energy Efficiency Programs." Mr. Schultz spoke of the energy projects being pursued by Duke Energy, noting that they had begun work on a network energy environment. He stated that customer demand was growing with new technology despite increasing prices and environmental issues. He noted that energy efficiency could be an effective resource but added that if people were left to monitor their usage, it would not happen. He added that while conservation helped consumers keep bills low, it penalized energy companies, thus a stimulus would be needed to encourage companies to pursue energy efficiency plans.

Mr. Schultz spoke of the new responsibilities for energy companies including educating consumers so that they understood the value of programs and participated; updating and providing financing for newer and more efficient equipment when consumers could not otherwise afford them; and monitoring and leading customers to greater efficiency without spending excessively. He spoke of the possibility of fixed efficiency bills and automated usage.

Mr. Barry Smitherman, Panel Moderator, stated that because the world's population was increasing rapidly and because other nations were striving to match the United States economically, the amount of energy consumed would also increase. He noted that Resource Adequacy consisted of: 1) Consumer Tools, 2) Supply Side, and 3) New Transmission. He stated that he anticipated that 10 megawatts of the energy needed could be produced by nuclear power and another 10 megawatts by wind. To get to the remaining 40 megawatts, the most practical approaches included efficiency and demand response.

He discussed House Bill 3693, noting that it included language on advance meters which would empower customers by letting them determine when, how much, and at what price they consumed. It would also allow for an instantaneous feedback loop which was yet available.

Mr. Jim Parks spoke on issues related to the Sacramento Municipal Utility District (SMUD). He noted residential peaks in energy used after working hours and stated that the company would need a plant to generate 500 megawatts for fifty hours per year. He mentioned that California had been running energy efficiency programs for the past thirty years. He made note of California's "loading order" of: 1) Energy Efficiency, 2) Renewables, 3) Clean Generation, and 4) Fossil Fuels.

Mr. Parks noted several initiatives that SMUD had worked on including a pilot program allowing permits for retrofitting to be free, easier, and faster to obtain. The Build it Green Public Agency standardizes efficiency and renewable efforts in the surrounding area; spreading to Chambers of Commerce; and a website called Our Green Community. Lastly, Mr. Parks stated that his five suggestions for sustainability were: 1) Energy Efficiency, 2) Emerging Technologies, 3) Transportation, 4) Renewable Energy, and 5) Codes, Standards, and Mandates.

Ms. Cindy Datig provided background information on the National Low Income Energy Consortium (NLIEC) and invited all to attend the 2008 Low Income Affordability Conference in Colorado. She introduced the Dollar Energy Fund and spoke on best and worst practices. Best practices recommended for organizations included using a holistic approach to maximize resources going into households and strategic investing in technology which could link stakeholders and provide real time information and accurate reporting. She noted that educating consumers was important and that one of the biggest problems consumers had was understanding their bills.

Mr. Scott Bernstein stated that in five trials to operate a Demand Response Program for residential customers, savings had ranged from 10-21%. He noted that the programs worked better when they were community based and that low-income populations responded best. He stated that while CPS had low rates, they had high consumption and that was the reason bills were so high. He added that the tools to aid in improving efficiency were not fully available and that contractors needed training. Additionally, companies needed to standardize and manufacture equipment and supply chains needed to be developed.

Mr. Bernstein spoke of early San Antonio and referenced the transportation and lighting systems and the difficulties with flooding. He stated that San Antonio had an original tight footprint; but after the introduction of the highway, people moved further out which caused a decrease in efficiency. He explained that although energy use and emissions would increase with more people in a concentrated area, they would decrease per household. Lastly, he provided an example of a utility company that found that they could save $1 billion annually by reorganizing the way they serviced their customers, implementing meters, and providing conservation incentives.

Mr. Bartley stated that CPS Energy's Vision 2015 was an aggressive plan for energy efficiency, conservation, and renewable power. He noted CPS Energy's revised goals of reduction of 771 megawatts, 2.9 million megawatt hour reductions, and the reduction of 1.7 million tons of CO₂ by 2020. He announced that CPS Energy would be establishing a new goal of renewable energy of 20% of summer peak for 2020. Finally, he stated that to back up their commitment, CPS Energy would be creating a Senior Executive Position that would be responsible for sustainable energy solutions.

Mayor Hardberger stated that said meeting was a call to action and that at the next B Session, the Council would begin to outline the energy plan which could be implemented in the near future.

Ms. Geis stated that the CPS Board had been working on the strategic energy plan for five years and that with current rebates and customer service initiatives, CPS Energy had saved 32 megawatts. She noted various programs available to assist businesses and residents and asked for assistance in educating the community. She noted that CPS Energy would be working in partnership to obtain a $200,000 Solar City Grant from the Federal Government. Lastly, she stated that San Antonio would be the first city in the State of Texas to receive energy from wind generation from the coast.

There being no further discussion, Mayor Hardberger adjourned the meeting at 5:12 pm.

The San Antonio City Council convened in a Regular Meeting on Thursday, June 5, 2008 at 9:00 am in the City Council Chambers.

The Invocation was delivered by Rev. Henry Bell, Pastor, Mount Moriah Christian Fellowship, guest of Councilmember Sheila D. McNeil, District 2.

Mayor Hardberger led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States.

CITIZENS TO BE HEARD

Father Walter D'Heejene spoke on behalf of COPS/Metro Alliance in opposition to the increase in registration fees for the Kid Quest Summer Program. He noted that discounts were available to low-income families but required much paperwork. He stated that the programs in northern San Antonio were at capacity but programs in less affluent areas were empty.

Mr. Paul Martinez, also representing COPS/Metro Alliance, stated that if families could not afford to put their children in the summer program, the children would stay home where they could cause trouble. He noted that the community was told that enrollment would not change and added that the City should invest in struggling families.

Mr. Mark Perez stated that City Departments did not have proper training and were not able to respond to his questions. He noted that many facilities contained hazardous chemicals and were operating without a Certificate of Occupancy.

Mr. Faris Hodge, Jr. stated that longevity pay should be provided to non-union employees and spoke against the City's Dress Code. He expressed concern with CPS Energy because if payments were made after 5:00 pm, electricity was not restored until the following day. She thanked the Council for appointing new SAHA Board Members and asked how she could become a Resident Representative.

Ms. Catrina Jacobo expressed concern that $450,000 or one-third of the total cost for repairs to Mirasol Homes had been spent in administrative costs. Mr. George Alejos read a letter on behalf of Ms. Alicia Lazaro from the Texas Real Estate Commission. The letter was in response to Mr. Alejos' complaint of deceptive trade practices and stated that the case had been closed due to insufficient evidence. He expressed concern that SAHA reported to the Texas Real Estate Commission that they did not know who had built her home.

Ms. Henrietta DeHoyos stated that she was on the Section 8 Waiting List and felt it unfair to be at the bottom of the list when Ms. Stephanie Battle had been moved to the top.

Ms. Martha Gamboa stated that she had been out of her Mirasol Home for eight months and during that time, her elephant collection had been broken and her floors were damaged. She added that she also had sewer problems with her home. She asked the Council to look into same.
