

You're invited! District 10 Back to School Bash this Saturday.

Councilman Perry's Back to School Bash is this Saturday, August 12th, from 9AM-1PM at Toyota Field (Parking Lot under Thousand Oaks Bridge)

Dear neighbors,

Every parent knows that getting the kids ready for the new school year is both stressful and expensive. As the first day of school approaches, we want to give you back your valuable time and energy and start the school year off on the right foot.

We will be passing out free backpacks, stuffed with the basic school supplies (notebooks, pens, pencils, and more), and providing FREE family entertainment, grilled meats, and goodies from local vendors. We will be located under the Thousand Oaks bridge in the Toyota Field Parking Lot, so there will be plenty of room and shade for the family.

If you don't have school-aged children, stop by anyway! Enjoy a hamburger and chat with SAPD, SAFD, CPS and SAWS representatives, and of course, your Councilman.

We are also looking for volunteers to help hand out or stuff the backpacks. Interested volunteers can email us at district10@sanantonio.gov.

Please share our flyer with your neighbors, your church, social media friends, or local daycare center, and we will see you Saturday!

- Clayton
