SA TOMORROW CODE ALIGNMENT

SA Tomorrow envisions a safe, sustainable, walkable, and equitable city which has access to jobs, housing and a variety of amenities and services for people living, working and visiting here. In order to accomplish this, the rules that shape our city need to be aligned with the principles of SA Tomorrow

The Unified Development Code (UDC) is the central document that outlines the rules and guidelines that regulate how San Antonio is built. The UDC can influence or affect many aspects of our daily life such as how we get around, the safety and security of our neighborhoods, our health, living options, and historic and cultural assets, by addressing zoning, land use, the size of blocks, frequency, spacing, and design of streets, parking requirements, and more.

With your input, our aim is to analyze the existing development code to make meaningful adjustments. So, come join us to move SA Tomorrow forward.
